A Message From Fr. Bertrand Clemens S.M.

These are the most challenging of times, and these are the least challenging of times.

Our era leaves little for challenge, when so very much comes so easily. A flick of a switch brings us into instant contact with joyous and tragic events in every part of the world. The touch of a button results in heat, light, food. Throw-away clothes, dishes, toys, and containers lighten the work load. Every imaginable mode of transportation takes us speedily and safely to new and distant places. Enjoyment, pleasure, recreation are at fingertips. The list continues on and on.

Yet these are the most challenging of times. Life has become cheap. Involvement with others is a forgotten virtue of another era. Inflationary economy and lack of energy brings fear and concern. Thousands of hungry, dejected, and oppressed peoples still exist on this rich planet. Deep hatreds of one nation or people for another continue to smolder and often erupt. These and similar conditions need changing and rightening.

The most unfortunate condition today is that the good people do so little, while those who are evil are never idle. There is a need for men to work for the good, to get others to work with them for these same goals, and to enlist institutions to do the same. The agenda for the good man is long, complex, and difficult for it primarily demands a changing of people and a changing of power and political structures. But this is the work of every Christian and every well-intentioned person. Serra endeavors to develop men who are real leaders—men who are free, independent, intelligent, moral, and social minded. These are the men the world needs today. With such leaders these most challenging of times can become the best of times.

"LOOK NOT TO YESTERDAY,

Dear Michael Cook:

Thanks for your quick and most understadding response.

Let's nail down the new date right now: APRIL 2nd!

I will arrive at 10:30 that morning, speak at 11:00, as you suggest, and stay on for a while during lunch so I can meet and mix with some of the students. Title of my lecture, if I didn't send it on before: THE SPACE AGE; ITS MEANING FOR ALL OF US.

See you April 2nd. Incidentally, I will be dropped at your school by friends. Can you, please, arrange to have me driven back toward my home, after we are finished? Thanks.
Best,

Ray Bradbury

STUDENT LIFE

RALLIES OUTRAGEOUS

Serra rallies played a substantial role in creating school spirit. Vice-president Eric Boyd, who coordinated the rallies this year, was quite successful, involving different students from the four divisions to help plan and produce the rallies which were more enjoyable than ever. Though a few rallies failed to generate school spirit, most were outstanding. Anything from monsters to Serra "cheerleaders" could be seen at some of Serra's "normal" rallies. Gong Shows, goons, gorillas and girls. Laughter, loonies, and lovely ladies. Rallies were outrageous and successful, and they closed the decade with spirit and grand participation

1. Junior cheerleaders in Serra "Gong Show" during junior sponsored rally. Beauties l to r, are Levi White, David DeRoen, Craig Honore and Milton Simpson. 2. Homecoming finalists wait to give speeches during formal rally. Pictured, l to r: Gina Mercandel, Karen Washington, LaDonna Johnson. 3. Senior Duane Davis conducts football rally: an example of more student involvement. 4. Seniors Mike Rivera and Randy Bowles pose for this cozy candid during Halloween rally. 5. Heckling Serra students enjoy "Gong Show." 6. Eeek! True to life picture of senior Briant Ennis during Halloween rally. 7. During first basketball rally, Bro Mike Chu, head varsity basketball coach, encourages Serra students to support the basketball teams. 8. Handsome portrait of senior Rick "Frankenstein" Duarte on Halloween day. 9. Junior Dewayne Birdson in formal attire addresses students during "Gong Show" rally.

HOMECOMING '78

Throughout the years, Serra has presented outstanding Homecoming events and activities. With the ending of the decad, past tradition was slightly altered this year as it was decided that seven girls would make up the Homecoming court instead of the customary five, giving the students a greater number of young ladies to choose from. 18 girls presented them selves but the final seven were Bunny Bates, Felicia Broussard, Donna Johnson, Gina Mercandel, Derozette Nicholson, Celeste Stewart and Karen Washington. The student body got a chance to meet each of the nominees when the contestants delivered short speeches during a school-wide rally. The students voted Friday and the same night the winners were announced before a large crowd of students and alumni during halftime of the Verbum Dei game. Last year's queen, Danielle Andrews was in attendance to crown the new queen.

Pride and excitement filled the atmosphere and the crowd and court waited in tense anxiety as ASB president Darnel Parker, would announce the winner. Derozette Nicholson was selected, and the stands cheered as she and escort Milton Simpson, took the traditional ride around the track before the people she would represent as Serra's 1978-79 Homecoming Queen.

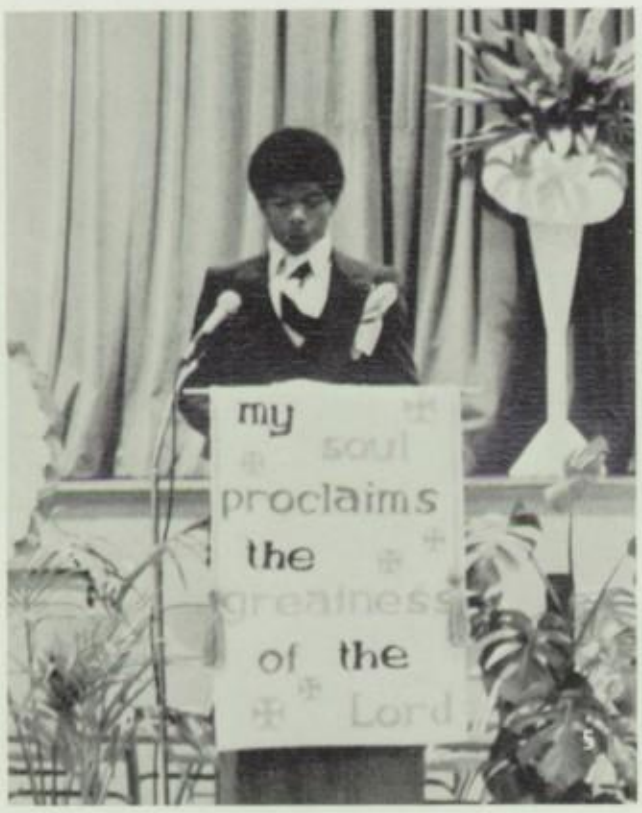
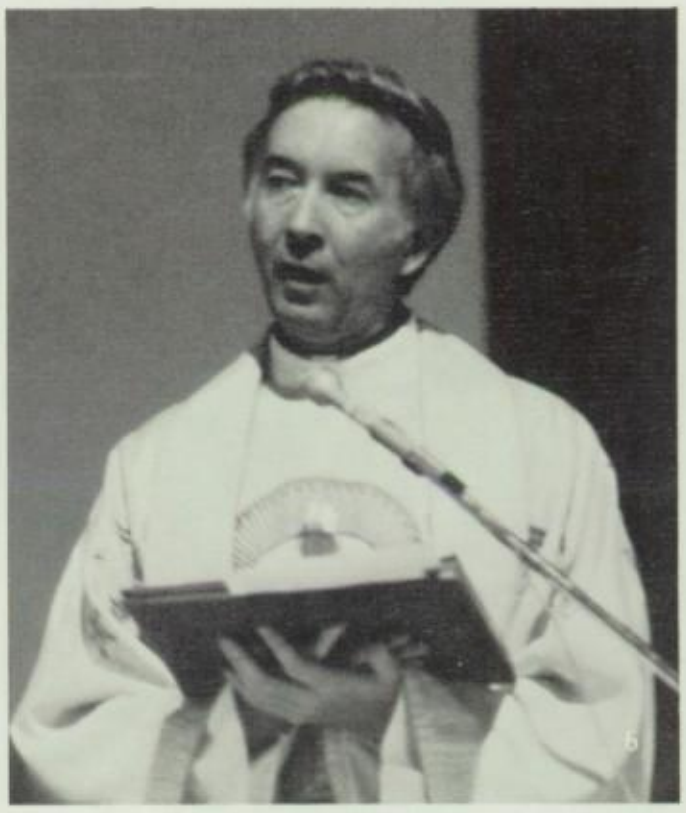
SERRA MASSES ENHANCED BY CHOIR

Masses at Serra were enhanced by the presence of the New Vibrations, a gospel choir originally organized last year by Mr. Mallory Matthews. The choir is composed of students and alumni of Serra plus young women from the community. The choir has grown consistently and has increased the number and scope of its presentations. It now sings not only at Serra but also at a number of churches and schools in the area. This year the New Vibrations sponsered a gospel concert featuring several groups' performances.

Aside from the singing of the choir, the impact of Masses at Serra was strong because of the events they celebrated. The communith participated in two memorial celebrations honoring students who died. Although these were not happy occasions, they did touch the students, faculty and friends of Serra deeply. They were indeed expressions of the Catholic faith which is at the core of Serra's identity as a school and as a community of believers in Jesus. Through these Masses the people of Serra found that the living mystery of Jesus does not make life easy but, certainly deeply meaningful.





1. Senior Rick Burleson reads at Mass in honor of steven Lee. 2. Con-celebrants Fr. Pat Philbin, S.M. and Fr. Bertrand Clemens, S.M. 3. FAMILY OF STEVEN LEE VISITS SCHOOL

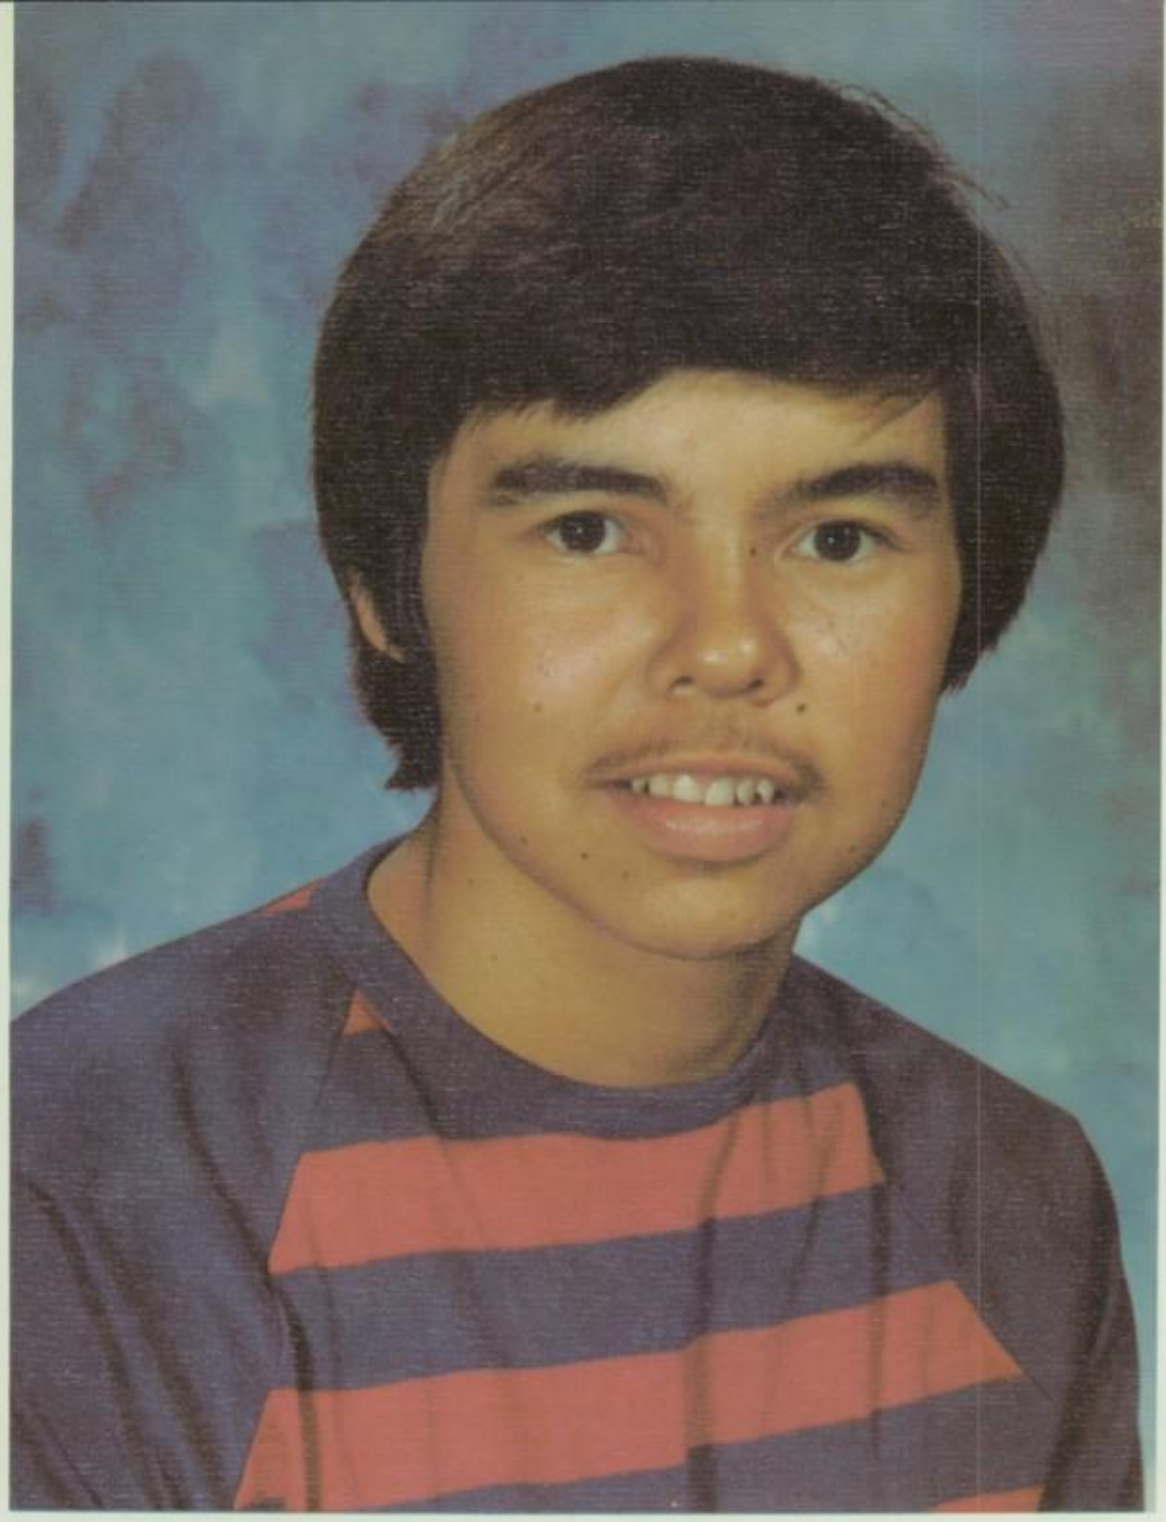
FOR MASS IN HONOR OF THEIR SON

1. Senior Mike Rivera reads from the New Testament during the memorial mass.
2. Fr. Pat Philbin and Mr. Lee, Steven's dad, share a wish of peace with Serra students.
3. Senior Randy Bowles reads "Firebird," a poem written by Steven Lee.
4. The family of Steven Lee reflects upon homily delivered during the mass by Fr. Pat Philbin.



Inspite of the good spirit of Serra, the closing of the 70's brought tragedy: the death of a senior, Steven Lee. Steven was truly a Serra man, actively involved in sports and academics. Steve excelled by expressing his emotions through his poetry and art. As we move into the 80's, the memory of Steven Lee moves with us.

FIREBIRD/Steven Lee

I saw a dark bird flying by
That resembled death in the sky
It soared with its wings spread wide
And zoomed forward as if caught by a tide.

But then as it soared in the path of the sun
It seemed to change until it had become . . . a

Firebird! Alive!
A paragon of life and death
A symbol of hope and despair
That electrifies the air.

I saw then that the ugliest of things could be good
And that life was not what it seemed as I Stood . . . hypnotized

I watched the bird glide high in the sky
When it screeched out and spoke to me
It said I am the symbol for all to see . . .
I am free!

Firebird! Alive!
A paragon of life and death
A symbol of hope and despair
A creature living within the spirit of man.
It is free!

Firebird! Alive!
A paragon of life and death
A golden symbol of our happiness
We are one!

MRS. RUNGE COMPLETES 25 YEARS AT SERRA

1979 EL PADRE IS DEDICATED TO HER

The El Padre staff hereby dedicates this last of the '70s edition to a woman who has served the faculties and students of Junipero Serra High School for twenty-five years—Mrs. Alberta Runge. Her loyalty and hard work have stood the test of time. She has worked as secretary and at the switchboard during most of the years Serra has been in existence. Her time at Serra has been marked by steadfastness and dedication to her job, and to those with whom and for whom she has labored. She can look to these many years with satisfaction and pride. We congratulate her and wish her many more years.

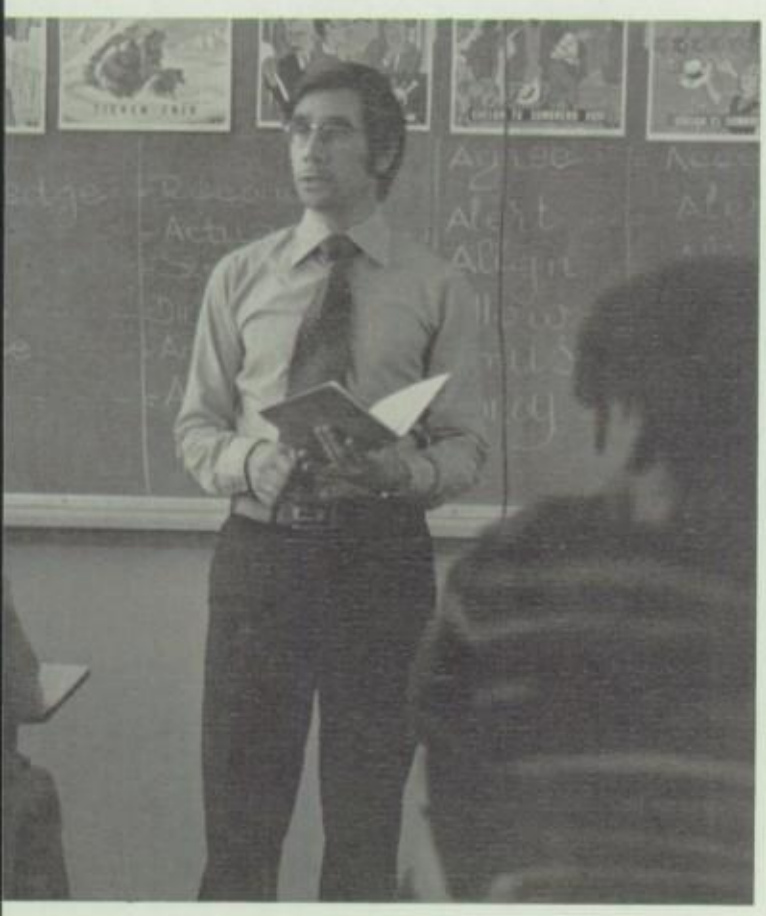
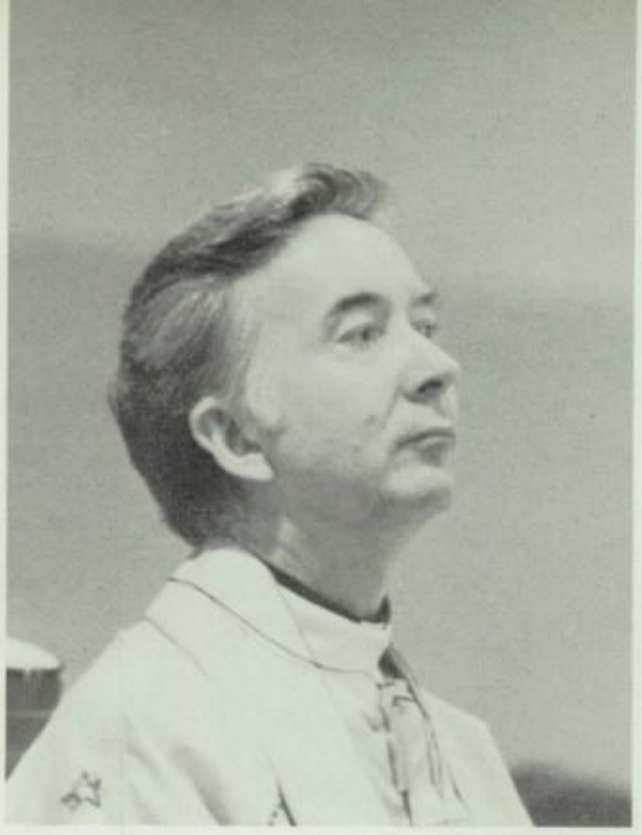
1. Mr. Dale Washburn, Head Varsity Football Coach, Social Studies.
2. Br. Mike Chu, Registrar, Head Varsity Basketball Coach, Social Studies.
3. Mr. John Cragin, Director of Guidance, Senior Counselor, Moderator of C.S.F., Psychology teacher.
4. Mr. Michael Cook, Athletic Director, English, Dept. Chairman, Senior Moderator, Varsity Volleyball Coach. "My most memorable experience of the 70's was working with 4 straight championship volleyball teams, especially the champions of '77 who really believed and never quit.
5. Mr. Daniel Brown, Physics, Chemistry. "Following my graduation from Loyola University in '76, a friend and I celebrated the Bicentennial year by traveling across the United States in his V.W. Bug. The Fourth of July in New York City was most impressive. The most memorable day was in August of 1978 at the ceremonies and celebrations of my wedding."

1. Bro. Manolo Alvarez, Spanish II, III, IV. "During '69 & '70 I was professor of Spanish at South Spain Pilar High School. For the first time the school was co-ed and I approved of the idea. I also traveled during the summer to England, Holland and Scotland to learn about the language education systems.
2. Mrs. Elaine Dudley, Business, Economics.
3. Mr. Mallory Matthews, Counselling.
4. Sister M. Donald Guarino, R.S.H.M. Dean of Faculty, teacher. "Without a doubt, the most memorable experience I have had in the 70's was my meeting with Mother Teresa in Calcutta, India during the summer of 1975. I had the happy privilege of attending Mass in her Mother house chapel; visiting her house of the dying was an experience never to be forgotten."
5. Mr. James Masterson, P.E. teacher, Frosh basketball, J.V. Volleyball coach.



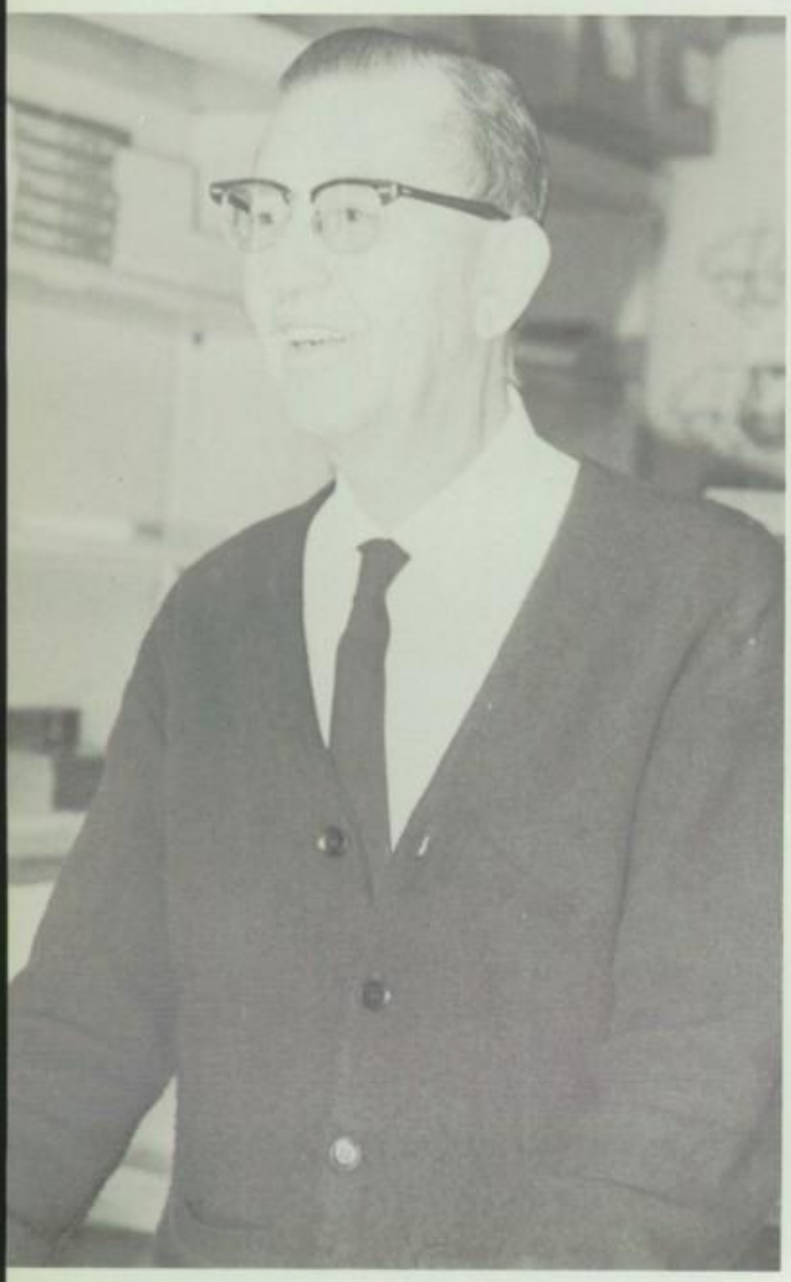


1. Mr. John Francis, Drama, English, Speech, Journalism. "I have two memorable events. Winning a nomination for the Irene Ryan Scholarship for acting at Rio Hondo from the American College Theatre Festival in 1971 and winning the Chapman College and Harbor College Festivals in 1977-'78 with Serra's "A Midsummer Night's Dream."
2. Rev. Patrick Philbin, S.M., Campus Ministry, Religion teacher, Frosh moderator, moderator of Serra Search. "Beginning the Serra Search Program—the first retreat in January of 1978."
3. Mr. Bruce M. Langedyke, Yearbook advisor, religion teacher, Communication Arts Dept. Chairperson. "I visited the Nada Contemplative Center in Sedona, Arizona and participated in the teachers strike."
4. Mrs. Gladys Lindsay, Librarian. "I was bachallorette in Ebony Magazine. as a result, I received over 100 letters from gentlemen over the world."
5. Mr. Hoped Balakian, Homeroom 16, Business, Typing, Drivers Education.

1. Rev. Bertrand Clemens, S.M., Principal, Religion teacher. "My return, in August of 1973, to Serra to teach and to be chaplain after 9½ years absence. (I had previously taught at Serra from 1962-1964)"
2. Bro. Charles Boglitz, S.M., Assistant in government lunch program and English teacher.
3. Mrs. Sandra Campbell, Reading Specialist.
4. Bro. Walter Wong, security.
5. Mr. Fred Mason, Religion, Government.

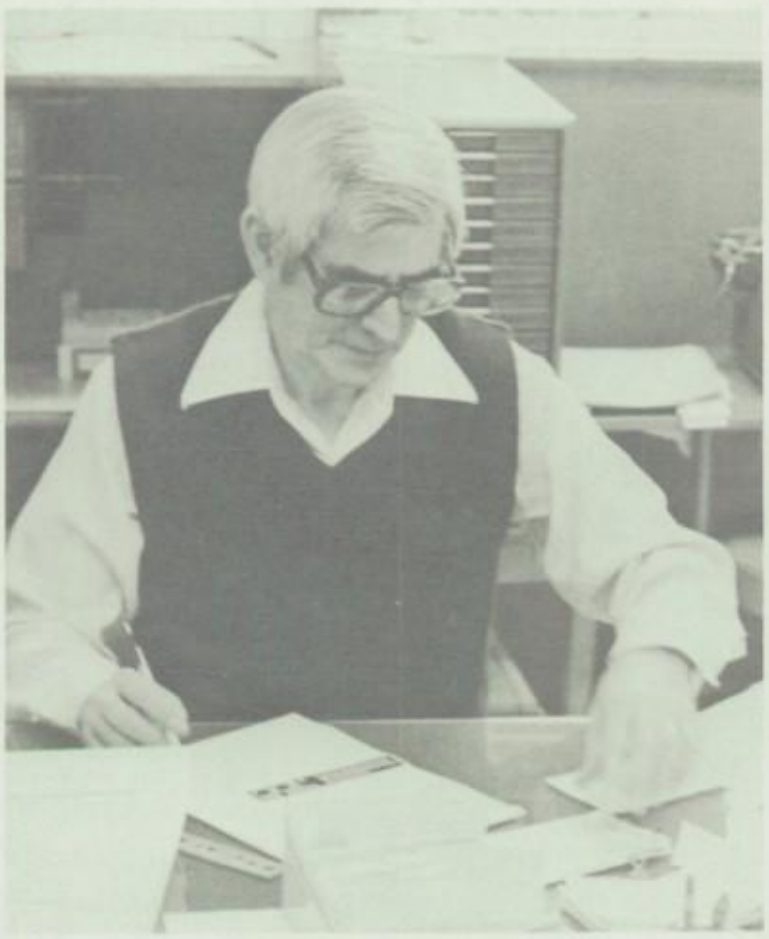
1. Brother Al Glanton, Student Activities, English. "I will always remember the Spring of 1972. I had a double operation and was in intensive care for a while, but I was amazed by all the friends who came to see me or who called me."
2. Mr. Joseph Evans, Mathematics.
3. Mr. Jack Moran, Physical Education, Head Varsity Soccer Coach. "In the Fall of 1976, I was coaching college soccer. The team won the last game of the season in overtime. The next day the score was announced over the radio in a restaurant where I was having breakfast."
4. Sr. Mary Regis Badreau, SS.CC., French. "In 1976 I spent ten months in Rome. Seeing peoples of all nations, of all creeds worshipping in the Basilica of St. Peter and being eager to see the Holy Father, I realized the depth of man's belief in God. My love became more universal; it stretched out to embrace all peoples. I realized more fully the truth: we are all one.
5. Mr. James St. Hilaire, Social Studies, Driver Training.

1. Ms. Joann Kennelly, Mathematics. "During the summer of 1974, I went with 15 students to the back country of Honduras to work in the missions."
2. Mr. James Crowell, Earth Science, Mathematics. "Memorable moments: draft #271, end of The War, attainment of B.S., M.Ed., restoration of classic '57 Chevrolet, return the Serra High.
3. Brother James Wisecaver, Dean of Academics, Vice-Principal, Science.
4. Mr. George McDaniels, Biology, J.V. Basketball coach.
5. Brother Ed Johnson, Dean of Men.
6. Mr. Gary Gall, Crafts, Photo, Cross-country and track coach.
7. Sister Eileen Rath, R.S.H.M, library.
8. Mr. Jaime Britton, Spanish.



Through the seventies, Serra has been bless with excellent clerical and maintainance staffs. This year, the administrative personnel closed the decade with consistant performance. Mr. Noe Cadena, the school accountant, handled school finances with the assistance of Bro. Harold Hammond. Mrs. Alberta Runge handled school records and student transcripts, and assisted students as she has for the past 25 years. Mrs. Pam Badon, principal's secretary for a second year, helped Fr. Clemens and faculty with her fine work. Mrs. Marieann Moret Serra's first attendance secretary, kept a daily account of student attendance. Bro. Leo Rausch ran the bookstore, an essential part of Serra.

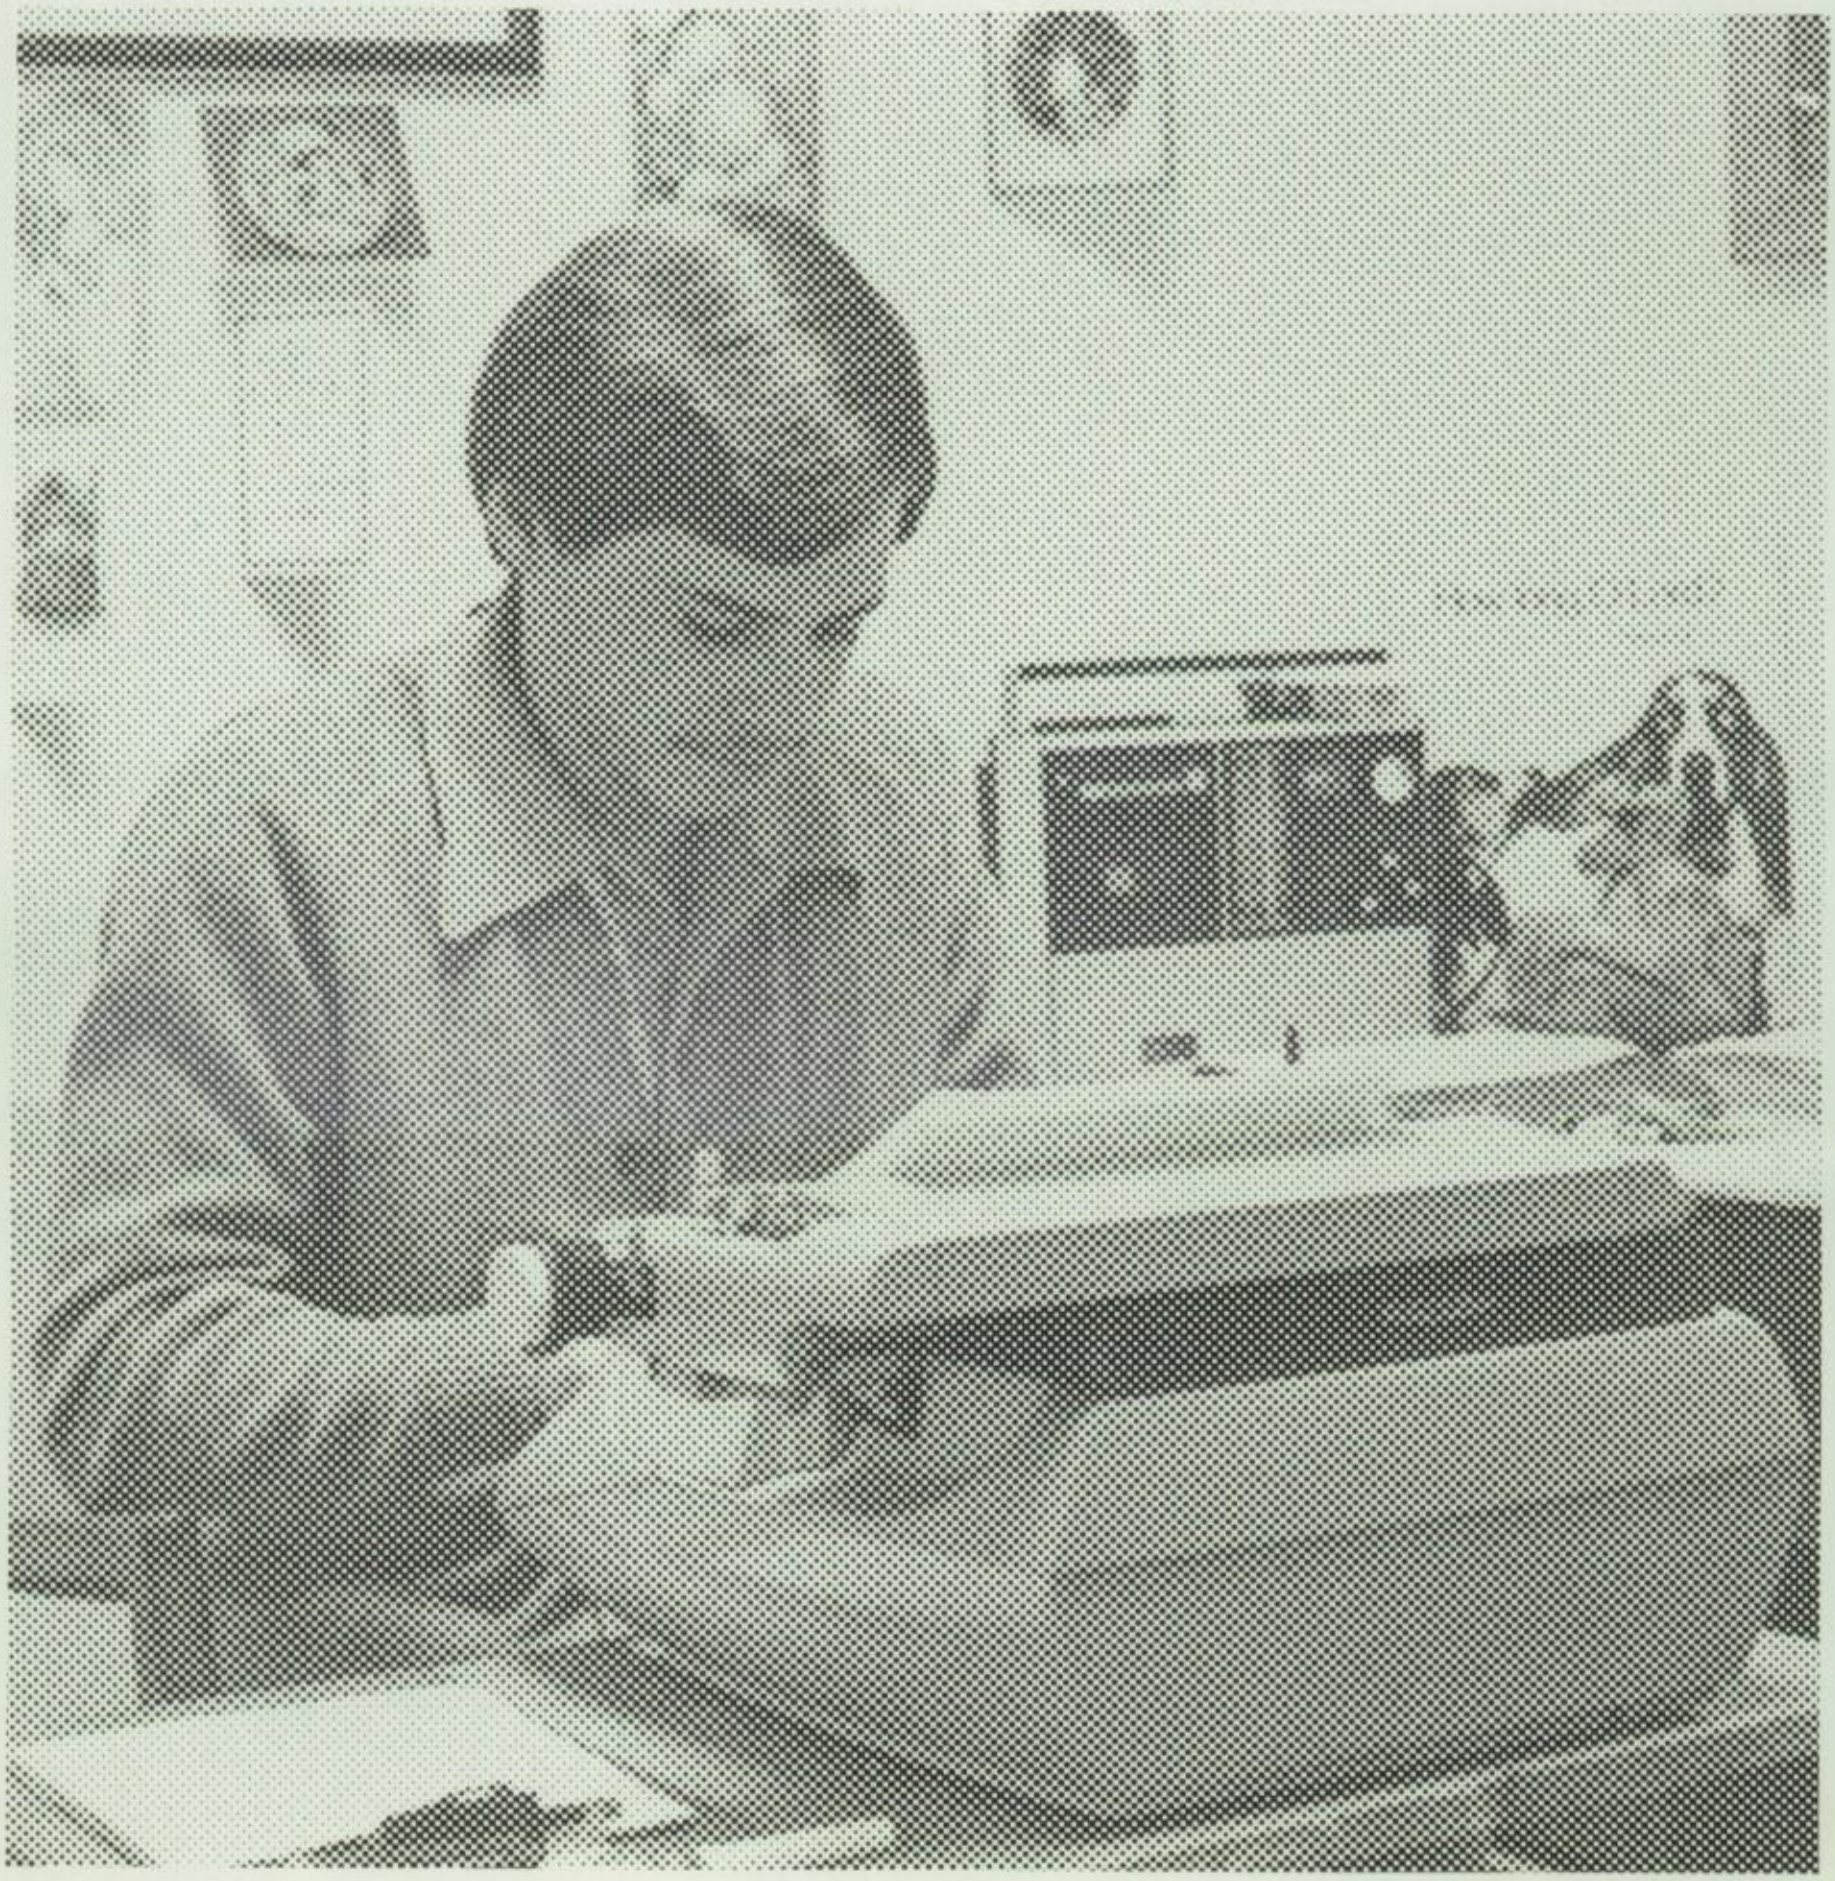
As principal, Fr. Clemens has always pushed for a well kept campus. The maintainance staff has done just that. Mr. Tony Lopez for years now has kept the school from running down; fixing lockers, repairing desks, etc. The gardeners and janitors did their share in keeping the Serra campus well groomed.



1. Brother Leo Rausch, general office and bookstore.
2. Mrs. Pam Badon, principal's secretary.
3. Mrs. Marieann Moret, attendance secretary.
4. Mr. Tony Lopez, maintenance.
5. Brother Harold Hammond, business office.
6. Mr. Noe Cadena, accountant.
7. Mrs. Clare Brunone, cafeteria.

THE LAST OF THE SEVENTIES IN . . .

ORGANIZATIONS



SERRA SEARCH

Serra Search is a new program of youth ministry, originally for and by high school girls and Serra students only. Under moderator, Fr. Patrick Philbin, the organization ran a series of weekends on which students became more aware of themselves, others, and ultimately, God.

In November, 1977, the development of the program began. Founders, Mark Allen and Eric Boyd, along with students from Serra, St. Michael, Regina Celi, and St. Mary, decided to begin a program for high school students similar to a program for adults in Orange County. Since then, over 400 students have made a Search weekend. So large had Serra Search become, that a board of directors was formed. Serra Search is now an established organization, and now, there are male students from different high schools, thus extending this new program of youth ministry to all high school students.

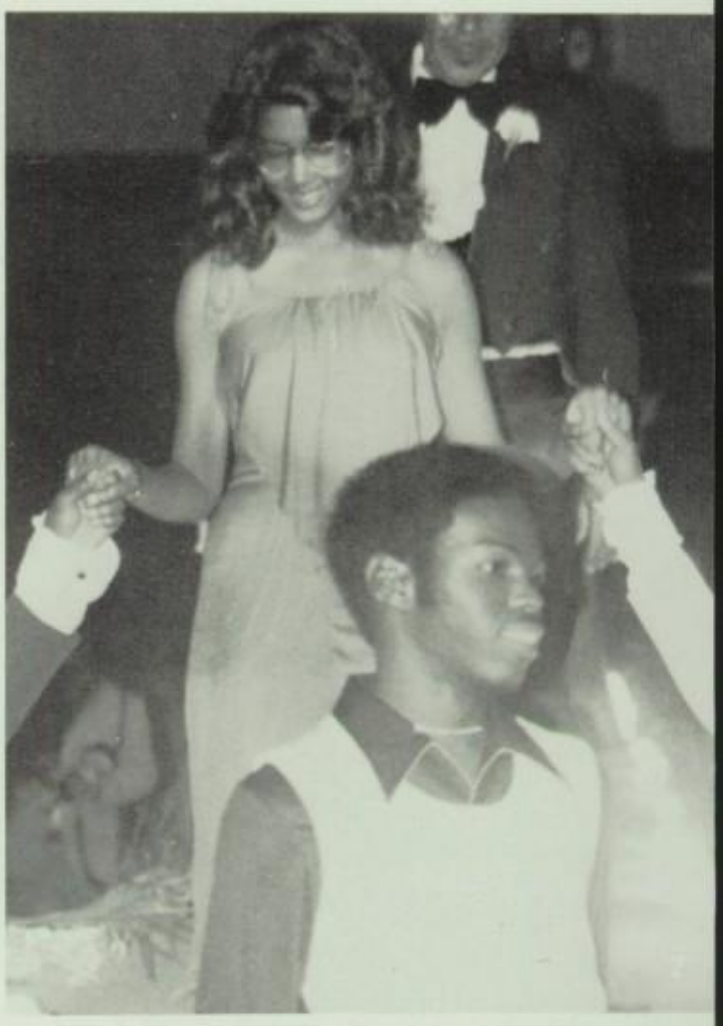
The Serra Search Board for 1977-79 was Mark Allen and Eric Boyd (president and vice-president, respectively), Janet DeCoud, Andre' Gueno, Teresa Gueno, Steven Jackson, Rosemary Jones, Patrice Legaux, Nick Merchant, Shellynne Phillips, and Bobby Spann.

1. This sign, created by Bobby Spann, hangs on the door of the Search office. The Dove, the symbol of Search, represents the Holy Spirit who welcomes all Searchers and friends. 2. Fr. Pat discusses Search weekend activities with Searchers. Students, l to r, are Andre Dosier, Thomas Mann, Anthony Bracey, and Bill Biscoe. 3. Search weekends are not just total prayer and seriousness. Here, Searchers enjoy lunch and the chance to discuss the morning's events with each other. The pleasant atmosphere of the weekend can be seen in the smile of Carlyn Davis (lt), a sophomore at St. Mary. 4. Fr. Pat prepares to distribute rosaries to fellow Searchers. 5. Nick Merchant (lt), André Gueno, William Davidson, and Rashé Hayes, a junior at St. Michael, acknowledge camera as they finish a fine dinner prepared by the Kitchen Krew. The dinner, like all dinners of each Search weekend, has religious significance.

MOTHERS CLUB

The Serra Mothers' Club was again very active this year. Not only in the activities, but in encouraging other mothers to help. One mother said, "There was the feeling that they knew me for years in the Mothers' Club." The theme for the annual fashion show was "Hawiian Fantasy" which delighted us to see the latest disco fashions. Thursday nights featured Bingo for all in order to raise funds for the school. We are truly grateful to these fine mothers of Serra.

1) The 1978-79 Mothers' Club: standing, Fr. Clemens, Mrs. Allen, Amy Mahoney, Eva Harts, Tayde Guerrero, Clara Crowell, Mary Duarte, Connie Campa, and Bro. Johnson. Seated, Barbara Lastrapes, Florida Toussant, Frances James, Marie Frank (Pres.), and Pam Badon. 2) Earl Brewer amongst the ladies. 3) Itty Bitty, Disco's pride and joy, dazzles the audience. 4) All is well as Mothers' Club President Marie Frank casts an approving smile. 5) An early evening crowd expecting a Thursday night of legalized gambling to raise funds for the school.



BOOSTERS' CLUB

The Boosters' Club represented the true Serra spirit. As in the paast, Dads joined in on the athletic activities and fund-raising operations. The club's president, Mr. Willie James, coordinated the talented fathers in performing services for the school. "Without the fathers," a Serra Mother said, "many of the events would lack a special zest." The students and faculty were very proud of the Boosters' Club and expressed fondest appreciation for the club's services and memories.

1) The 1978-79 Boosters' Club: seated, Whitney Collins, Taro Johnson, Willie James (Pres.), Walter Ennis, and Clarence Taylor. Standing, Bro. Mike Chu, Bro. Jim Wisecaver, G. Lindsey, John Honore, A. Allen, Louis Ravare, J. Landry, Joe Lawlor, and Ollie Williams. 2) Mark Allen explains the value of a Serra Search. 3) Marie Frank reviews her agenda with Willie James.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT CHANGES SERRA

"Look not to yesterday, but to tomorrow." The 1978-79 student government did just that. Throughout the year, the student council brought new ideas to the Serra campus. In initiating ping pong at lunch and extending the number of Homecoming finalists, the student government did its best to create a Serra of "tomorrow".

What they could not change, they tried to improve. Senior patio, an area for Seniors only, was taken more seriously this year by underclassmen. Announcements were given a new twist. With the help of T.V. crew and moderator, Mr. Bruce Langedyke, the student council televised the daily announcements on Serra's closed circuit t.v.

A totally new idea was attempted at Serra and St. Mary's Academy. Together, both student councils developed a two day program called St. Mary-Serra Student Exchange. During the first day of the program, student leaders from Serra went to St. Mary to evaluate several of the classes. These students were to describe the student-teacher attitude and relation. Hosted by St. Mary, the day included an assembly, lunch, and a St. Mary student council meeting. St. Mary students came to Serra on the second day. Save for the assembly, the young ladies received the same treatment and schedule.

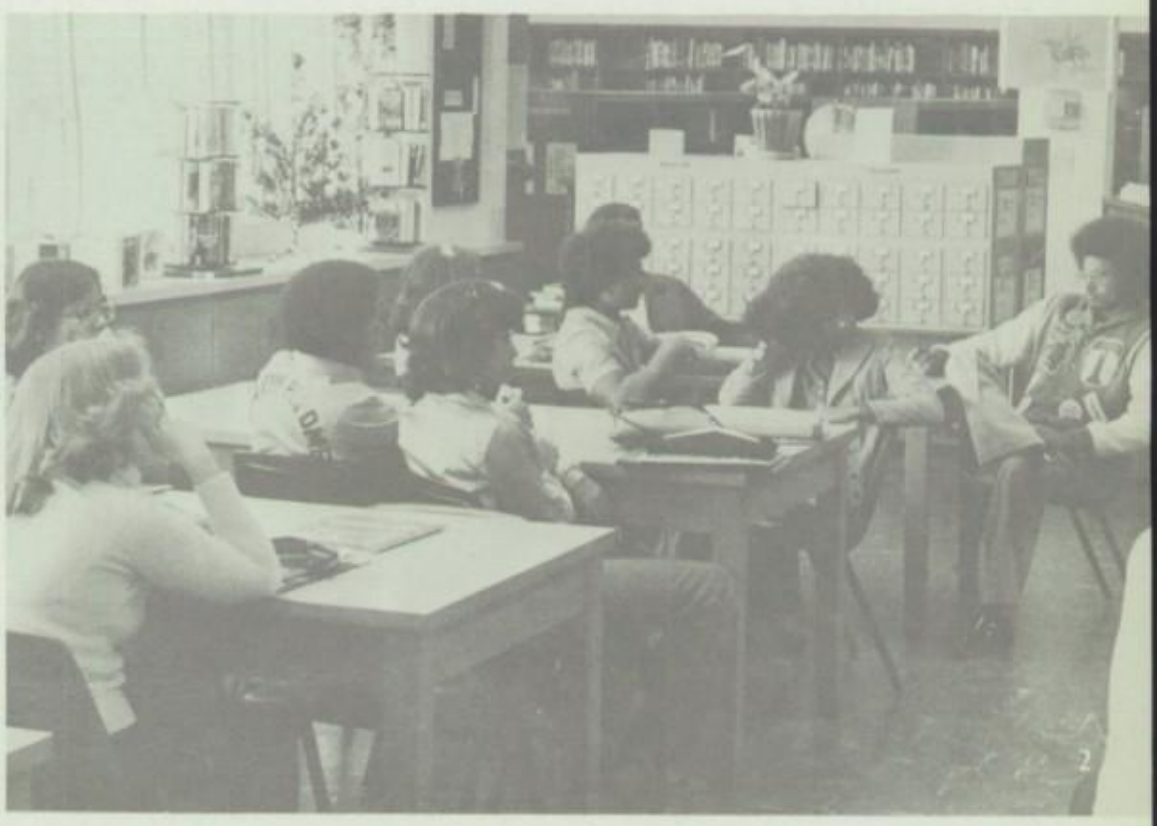
After a chicken lunch, exchange students Brian Frank (left), Lori Gatewood, and Dewayne Birdsong relax before the next class at St. Mary. 6. Mike Dunnigan rechecks his schedule during snack break at St. Mary. 7. Exchange partners Karen Foster and David Brown listen for changes in the day's schedule at Serra.



EL PADRE POINTS TO END OF SEVENTIES

The yearbook staff for the '79 El Padre chose to focus upon the end of the 70's as the theme for this year's book. This theme was reflected in the copy, cover and artwork as well as in the treatment of all of the people of Serra and the events which shaped their lives. Due largely to efforts above and beyond the call of duty by co-editor Mark Allen, the book struggled into existence. Many others helped as well as the staff and advisor, Mr. Langedyke, tried to deal with this year's story of Serra in a creative way.

1. Yearbook staff: Bart Hall, Derek Ennis, Bryant Ennis, Bill Nash, Rick Burlson, Tony Vercher, Mark Allen, Henry Beceiro, Todd Doby, Victor Miller, Andre Bibolet, Bill Biscoe, Layne Millon, Randy Bowles and Kevin Harris. 2. Senior co-editor Mark Allen demonstrates for friend Eric Boyd. 3. Advisor Mr. Langedyke polishes off some unfinished business. 4. Copy writers Andre Bibolet and Todd Doby collaborate on a story.

Mr. John Francis once again was in charge of the school newspaper and had able assistance from senior Henry Beceiro who was editor. The staff tried some news things this year, such as vigorously publishing the opportunity for self-expression that the student body has in the newspaper. Many members of the staff also excersized their journalistic talents by working on the yearbook staff.

1. Newspaper staff: Rick Burlson, Bart Hall, Mark Allen, Victor Miller, Andre Bibelet, Eric Boyd, Todd Doby, Henry Beciero. 2. & 4. THESPIANS COME A LONG WAY

FROM MUSICALS TO PLAYS AND COMPETITION

The Serra High Drama Dept. has come a long way since 1971, when it was first begun. In its beginning, the club focussed on grand musical productions like "Oklahomah" and "The Music Man." But with the coming of a new moderator, John Francis, came new ideas with which to experiment: comedies and dramas.

The close of the decade for the Thespian Society was even more successful than its beginning. Fine actors and actresses proved themselves once again with their performances in "Hold Me," "Heaven Can Wait," and "Mouse Trap."

Competition played a major role. The Thespians competed at such places like Dominguez Hills, Harbor College (where they were voted "Superior" by the judges), and Reseda High (where Thespians Mark Allen and Craig Honore took awards).

CHEERLEADERS ADD SPARKLE

This year's cheerleading team was made up of girls from neighboring schools and they were selected prior to the beginning of this season's football play. The best cheerers were selected and put together an array of imaginative cheers and formations at halftime and time-outs. They entertained the stands with their soul-full style. The Cavalierettes have performed before all types of crowds and have always been able to generate spirit and liveliness. They were: Julie Casonhua, Demise Black, Bunny Bates, Carmen Legaux, Yamisse Joshua, Paula Henry, Kim Webb, Felicia Brossard, Melanie Mercadel, L'titia Gunnels and Monica Cragwell.

SERRA SERENDIPITY

CONGENIAL CAVALIERS

A day at Serra is one of hustling: running to get to first period, trampling toward the cafeteria during nutrition break, dashing to third period, racing to the cafeteria or off campus for lunch, rushing to get to fifth period to which one is already late, and stampeeding to the bustop or to practice after school. Yet, Serra students and faculty always find time to converse with each other or sit back and relax— until the minute hand moves another notch.

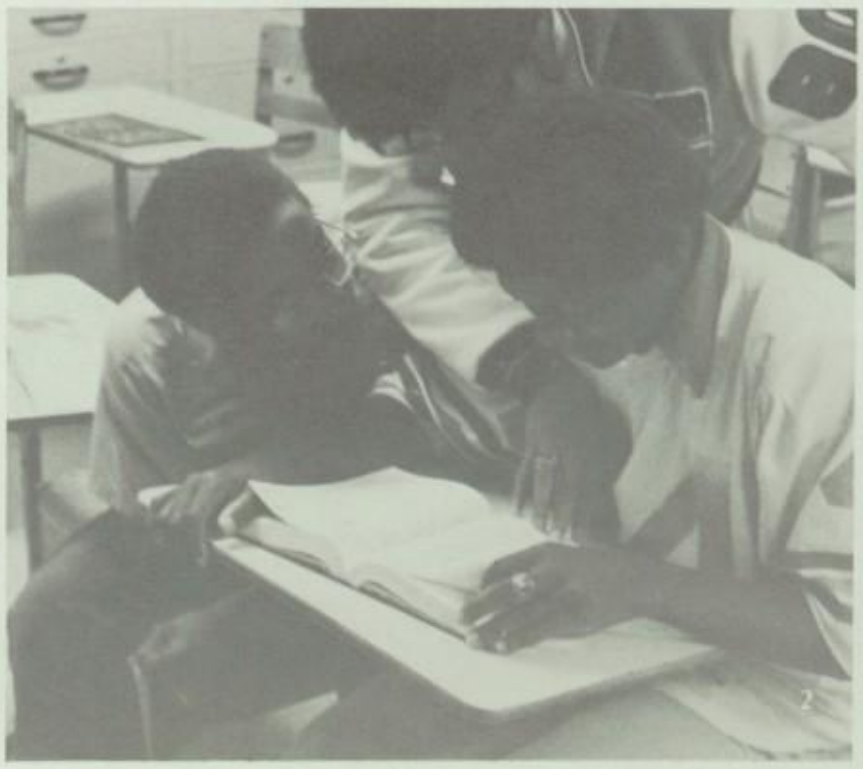
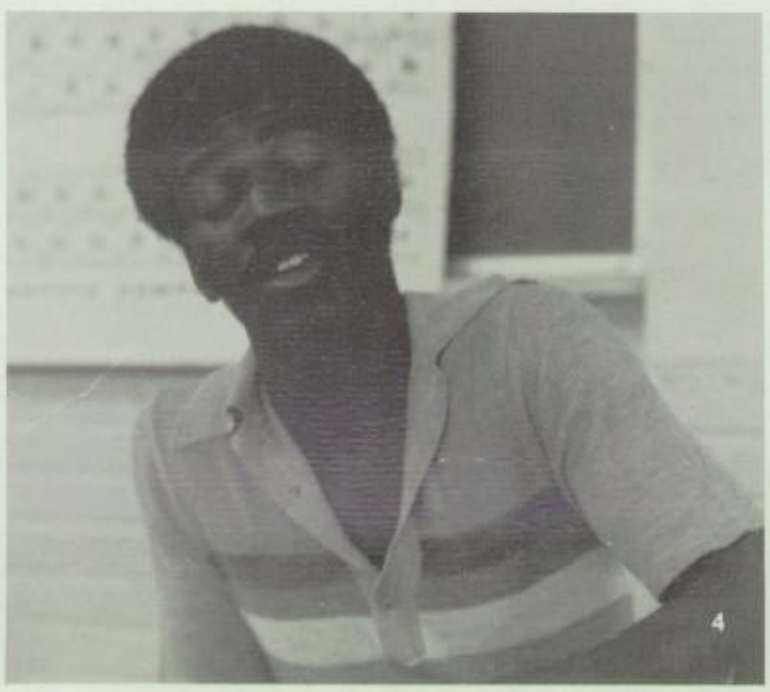
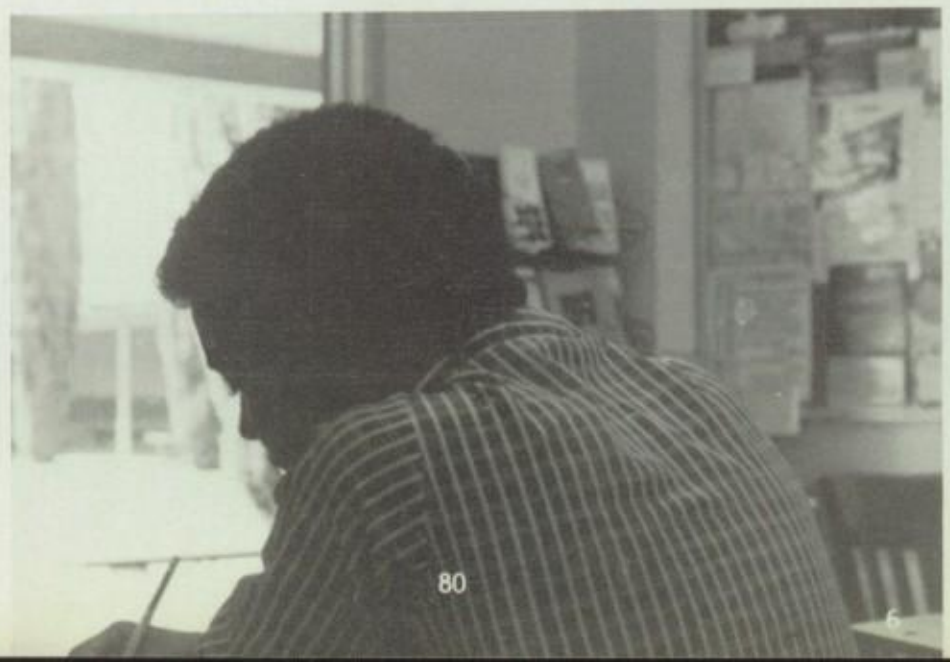
LAB WORK ARROUSES INTEREST

Though involved in extra-curricular activities, Serra men always found time for studies. 1978-79 saw Academics in the classroom and the library before, during, and after school.

1. Leroy Codrington and Marvin Brown take part in a discussion during a junior ethics class. 2. Afterschool, senior Eric Boyd and junior Levi White assist junior Anthony Bracey with an English assignment. 3. Often times, a student (e.g., Dean Campbell) could be found in the school library completing an assignment before school begins. 4. Deon Evans expresses his hypothesis on the theory of "Sleepivity," during a chemistry class. 5. Junior Avery Burns, engrossed in studies for mid-term exams. 6. Senior Kevin Hawkins rechecks notes for a careers exam.







Academics could be seen, not only in the laboratories and the classrooms, but also in the art room. From intricate macrome to delicate silk screening, Serra men develop covert and expert talents in Art I abd II and Advanced Art Classes.

The 1978-79 varsity football team, under new head coach Dale Washburn, had its difficulties this year in the Camino Real League. The team suffered several injuries to desperately needed players like Nick Merchant, Leon Tucker, and Roy Bragg. However, in spite of their handicaps, the varsity football team showed the same spirit and pride characteristic of Serra.

KEY INJURIES HASSEL CAVALIERS

To quote one of the senior running backs, "It was nobody's fault; there's no one to blame. Things just didn't go our way." Indeed, none of the defeats was by a large margin—a field goal here, a touchdown there. It was tough this year. The league was very well balanced. The sole league victory was over Daniel Murphy.

1. Varsity limbers up before practice. 2. Number 33, Wright, is stopped by a Verbum Dei tackler after a short gain. 3. Serra's defense, in the persons of Anthony Bracy (44) and Keith Biggers (31) zeros in on an enemy running back. 4. Senior quarterback Eddie Moton gets the offense in gear. 5. FROSH FOOTBALL '78

The Freshman Football team, made up of several young men who came to Serra from different schools, just couldn't get their act together in the 1978-79 football season as they finished winless in league and season. The frosh found Serra life on the gridiron pretty rough as they finished with an 0-3-1 record for a last place spot in the Camino Real League, and had an overall record in the season of 0-7-1. Head Coach for the frosh was Serra Alumnus Hector Guerrero, who also assisted the Varsity Coaching staff. But the Cavaliers couldn't produce any kind of offensive attack and

The 1978-79 Serra High Varsity Basketball team, under new Head Coach Br. Mike Chu and Jon Smith had a tough assignment ahead of them for the season. The team had only two returning lettermen: seniors Andre Gueno and Charles Bacon. But after such people like Stanley Walker were moved up to Varsity and filled those empty spaces, the team became a lot stronger. But the Verbum Dei Eagles, top ranked in the entire C.I.F., dominated the Camino Real League also. St. Bernard's, Murphy, and Serra were the only serious contenders for the two remaining playoff berths. But after a close defeat by Murphy in the last match of the season, it was Serra who was to be left out of post-season competition. Although it was a rebuilding year, the Cavaliers have several returning players, including two sophomores, bringing a brighter prospect of victory in next season's squad.

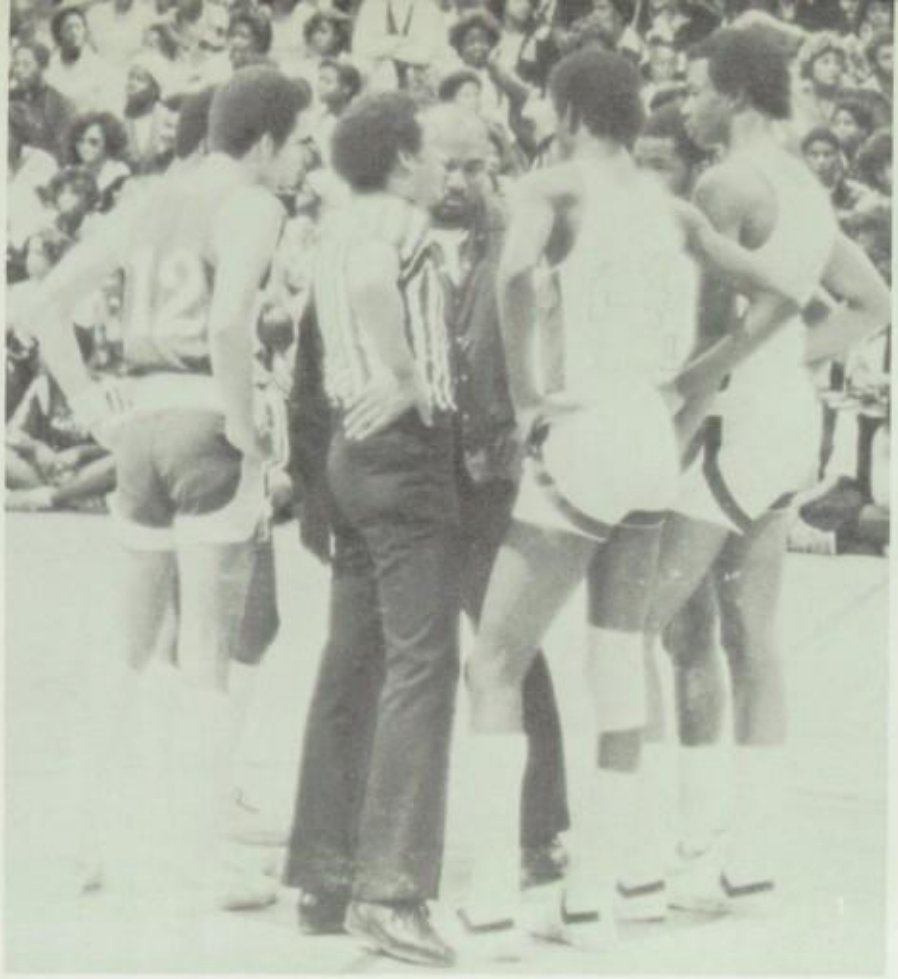
1) Junior guard Tony Adams gives it the soft touch as he takes a jump shot against the St. Bernards Vikings. 2) Senior forward Andre Gueno tries to stop Vikings' player from scoring, but St. Bernards, who finished 2nd in league, managed to beat Serra three times during the course of the year. 3) Basketball isn't always a non-contact sport, one injured player takes to the ground in pain.



1) Serra Varsity captains Andre Gueno and Wally Green meet with refferees and Verbum Dei captains Kim Lewis and Cliff Pruitt prior to their square-off at the Serra Dome. Verbum Dei won the contest and also breezed to an undefeated League Championship.
2) Serra center Duane Robertson controls the tip for the Cavaliers over a Lakewood player in a Beverly Hills Tournament match.

SERRA J.V.'S: CHAMPIONSHIP ON THEIR MIND'S

High expectations were held for the 1978-79 Junior Varsity Basketball team after coming off a good pre-season and starting off the Camino Real League with big victories.

This year's squad was under the coaching of Mr. George McDaniels. Glenn Smith, Steve Mcgill, and Dwayne Biggers were just a few of the outstanding performers.

J.V.'S BACK WITH BIG WINS

The J.V.'s finished the pre-season with only three losses on their record, one of which was an unexpected and dissappointing loss in the Serra Tournament. But they came right back in league to start off with three big wins; the league opener to Verbum Dei, a route of Salesian, and a victory over St. Bernards.

The J.V.'s had a much easier time than the Varsity, and as the season progressed, kept an eye on a prospect of a league Championship.

1) Pat Lombard gets high in the sky on a lay-up attempt.
2) Guard Glenn Smith gets tough on defense against Cantwell player.
3) Joseph Cormier gets the slight edge over Cantwell center.
4) Coach George MacDaniels gives the J.V. team some winning advice.
5) Sophomore Duane Biggers takes up a lay-up for two more Cavalier points.

1) Sophomore Tracy MacMurray takes aim as team mate Joseph Cormier looks on in a Camino Real League match against Cantwell, which Serra easily won.
2) Junior guard "Disco" Don Lombard takes a short break during a timeout at Cantwell. The J.V.'s not only won the game but took league in a first place tie with Verbum Dei.
3) Duane Biggers takes aim and puts in a freethrow for more Cavaliers' points in Serra's victory over Cantwell.
4) A Cantwell defender tries to stop a Serra layup, but the Cavaliers got the points anyway in the Camino Real League contest.
5) Tracy MacMurray and Jerome Gibbs get up for the rebound over Murphy opponent, but Serra went on to win the game, and league, in 1978-79.

FRESHMAN

TOUGH C.R.L.

For the Serra frosh cagers the season really came down to a final dramatic game against Daniel Murphy High School. Both teams held identical records of 7-2 but for Serra the final game was a story of frustration in that they lost the championship to Murphy.

Coaches Jim Masterson and Al Johnson lead some promising ball players. Standouts were Zachary Bose and Eugene Profit along with John Williams in the backcourt and Joe Williams (most improved) and M.V.P. Kerry Boagni in the front court.

VARSITY SOCCER: DOES IT AT LAST

In the fourth year of Soccer at Serra, the Cavaliers, under the guidance of coaches Ed Duarte and Jack Moran, the varsity finished the season with their best record in its history. The Varsity Soccer team met the challenges of tough competitors at Bishop Montgomery, St. Bernards, and Loyola.

The team accomplished three things this season: they brought home a second place trophy from the Alemany Tournament, scored more this year than in any other year, and earned themselves recofnition and respect throughout the CIF.

All-Leaguers Rick Duarte, Rick Burleson, and Steve Miguel, who scored 19 goals for the season, led Serra in the offense and defense, while seniors Randy Bowles, Mike Rivera, Mike Pipion, and Bill Biscoe gave Serra the experience needed for a winning season. Prominent underclassmen Anthony Hamilton, Colin Neal, "Chipper" Henderson and Omar Palacio gave Serra the balanced attack.

J.V.'S SHOW PROMISE

Last year, the J.V. Soccer squad gave this year's Varsity most of their talent. But this year, Junior Varsity Soccer had talent of its own. Return players included Phil Davis, Briant Ennis, Louis Pecot, Kevin Kinsey, and Jason Guerrero. The team also had some fresh talent in Andy Hills, Raymond Lyons, Shermon Brooks, and Kevin Carter.

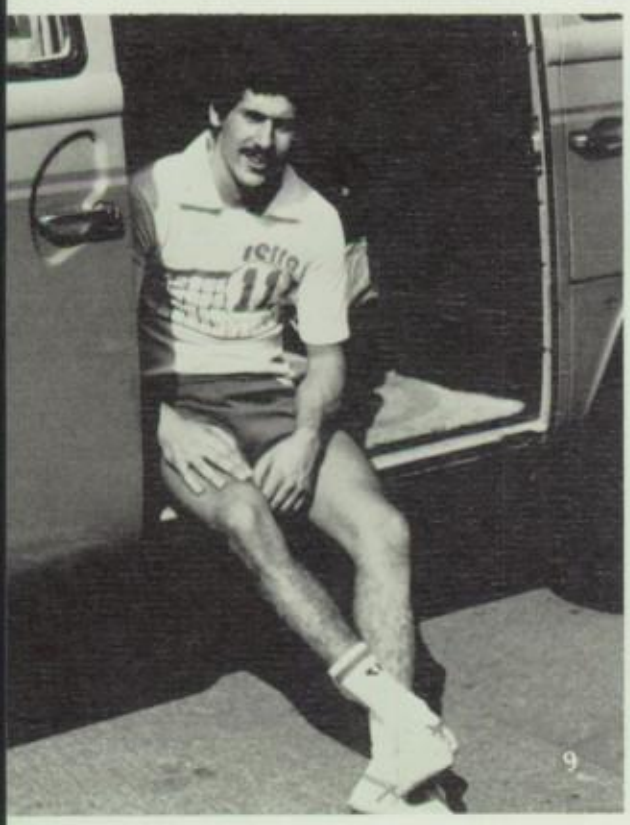
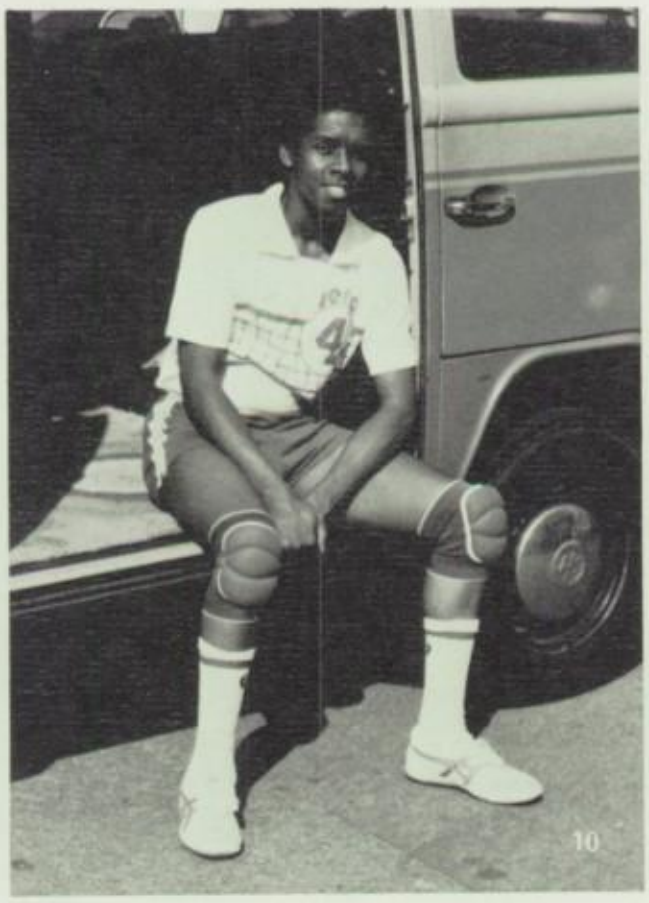
SERRA VOLLEYBALL VARSITY TAKES OWN TOURNEY

The varsity volleyball team began its 1979 season in impressive fashion with a come-from-behind first place finish in their own invitational tournament. Head Coach Michael Cook characterized his team as one with a feeling of destiny and dedication due largely to the loss of a close friend and teammate—Steven Lee. The team is composed of four starters from last year. These four—Randy Bowles, Robert Rooney, Mike Rivera, and George Honer—are joined by Bryant Ennis, Rick Burleson, Rick Duarte and Bill Biscoe, all of whom are quite new to the sport.





An ability to come from behind was demonstrated against Bishop Montgomery when the team as down match point (14-13) and held on to win over their favored league rival. They were down 10-2 earlier in the season against South Pasadena and took that game by a score of 15-12. Many ranked Serra third in their league behind Loyola and Bishop Montgomery and so Serra's determination and ability were well tested this year.

YOUNG CROSS-COUNTRY TEAMS STRUGGLE OUT OF 70'S

The Serra Varsity Cross-country team had a rough time during the 1978-79 season and finished the year without a league victory to their name. Despite the talent of star runner, junior Arnold Fisk, coach Gary Gall's varsity finished with an 0-4 mark and took last place at finals with 143 points.

It was also a long season for the Serra J.V. Cross-country team, as the Cavalier distance runners could finish no better than last in the Camino-Real league. Their record of 0-4 was identical to that of the varsity, so it was a slow year all around for the Cross-country program at Serra.

Both teams have one virtue, though. They are made up primarily of young runners. So, despite finishing the 70's on a low note, there is room and time to grow. The cross-country unit hopes to be in contention in the next year and decade.

COACH WASHBURN HAS LARGE TRACK TURNOUT

New track coach, Mr. Dale Washburn succeeded in fielding one of the largest track and field teams in Serra's recent history. Beginning very early in the spring he stressed basic track concepts and demonstrated proper techniques especially in the sprints and hurdles which resulted in many early season meet victories. The weather was not particularly cooperative and often meets and practices had to be postponed or cancelled due to rain or a flooded track.

UNDERCLASSMEN - NO THREAT

SENIORS UNMATCHED

This year in intramural football Serra High School had its ups and downs. For the first time in the Past four years the underclassmen posed no threats. Plagued by mysterious no-shows and forfeits, the frosh and soph classes lacked the enthusiasm to match the lowest of senior classes. The junior division lead by Andre Allen, Cleo McClain and Andre Moore provided the only challenge to the powerful seniors.

HOMEROOM 27 UNDEFEATED

INTRAMURALS FOOTBALL CHAMPS

The highlight in this year's intramurals were the Seniors. Led by homeroom 27 and the always powerful Cookies of homeroom 9. The Seniors brought life and flair into an otherwise apathetic audience. Each day the P.A. was filled with the feats of such gridiron favorites as Ricky "The Swan" Lastrapes and intramural All-American Darnel "Dorsett" Parker. The crowds grew larger and everyone participated as an unprecedented undefeated record put Parker's Pirates of homeroom 27 on top. Intramural Football Champs for 1979

RE-BIRTH OF 3 ON 3 BASKETBALL

Ideas have their way of coming and going. If the idea is a good one, it may last through many years and may even become a tradition. But sometimes, an idea may become a reality for only a couple of years; and then, it dies.

And so it was with 3 on 3 Basketball. Initiated at Serra in 1976 by the Black Awareness club, 3 on 3 survived for only two years. However, the 70's would not end without the rebirth of 3 on 3.

The White Hats club brought back this short-termed tradition to Serra. Under the direction of John Young and Eric Boyd, president and vice-president of the club, 3 on 3 was successful from the first game to the championship game in which the team of Patrick Lombard, Jerome Gibbs, and Tracey McMurray defeated the team of Gregory Bellmar, Michael Copeland, and Kevin Williams to become 3 on 3 Basketball Champs.

SERRA REMEMBERS YET ANOTHER TIME

The students, faculty and friends of Serra gathered once more this year to remember and honor a student whom God called at a young age from among us. The family of Dion Coleman, a junior, visited the school the celebrate a Mass in memory of their son and brother. Once again this year we sadly pondered the mystery of life and death. We deeply considered Dion's passing and will remember.

A WORD FROM THE EDITORS

The 70's were an age of creation for Serra: the development of a drama club and eventual Thespian Society, the increase of the Homecoming court, the development of new clubs, and more.

Change was evident throughout the faculty and student body. As the faculty integrated, the student body became less integrated.

The El Padre attempted to capture all of this throughout the 70's as it has for the past 25 years of the El Padre's existence. I sincerely hope that the El Padre will successfully continue its annual summations throughout the coming 80's.

Because of the accelerated pace of change and creation, it is quite difficult for anyone to predict the future of Serra. I just pray that God will continue to protect and guide Serra in and beyond the 1980's.

I would also like to express my gratitude to Mr. Langedyke for his guidance, advice, and patience throughout the past year. Many thanks go to Henry Beceiro, for his outstanding contribution, and to some of the El Padre Staff.

Mark E. Allen
Co-Editor-in-Chief

Living through the 70's has been a time of great change. Politics, economics, music, television, school, almost everything has changed. Even the world as a whole has changed.

In my four years at Serra, I have seen changes take place within the school. I have also seen changes take place within myself: the pride and spirit that I have in representing the school through activities and sports.

This was one of the main reasons why I attended Serra—to have respect for Serra and for my fellow students. You do not come here to get away from public schools, or because your parents made you come.

I pray that the students of the classes of the 80's have this kind of attitude, or Serra will undergo another change in the future.

I would like to thank the staff for helping the El Padre make the last of the 70's a meaningful remembrance, and I hope that in the 80's the El Padre will still be as it has always been-a #1 yearbook.
